Finding Inspiration in the Natural World

Capturing Wildlife with Respect and Ethics

Tips For Ethical Wildlife Photography

- * Remember to be quiet and discrete. It is crucial to not interfere with any natural phenomenon.
- * Do not chase any animal; the welfare of wild animals is always the priority.
- * Never feed or bait to attract animals.
- * Respect and follow the rules in any protected areas.
- * Check for necessary permissions by the respective authorities.
- * Do not wander off into the forests; follow the designated trails.
- * Please do not throw objects to get the attention of an animal.
- * Explore nature! Reading about animal behaviour and their habitat helps.
- * Try and blend in: Wear camouflaged attire and neutral colours to avoid distracting animals.
- * Do not give out the location, date, and GPS coordinates of sensitive species and regions.
- * Startling or scaring any animal isn't ever a good idea.
