

Fugitive From Injustice: Exposing the Criminalization of Conservatorship

: A Hidden Epidemic

In the United States, an estimated 1.3 million people are currently under conservatorship. This legal arrangement, designed to protect vulnerable individuals who are unable to care for themselves, has been increasingly abused in recent decades. As a result, countless innocent people have been stripped of their rights, freedom, and property without due process or oversight.

Chapter 1: The Perfect Storm

This chapter delves into the complex factors that have fueled the rise of conservatorship abuse. From the aging population to the growing wealth gap and the lack of regulation, a perfect storm has been created that has allowed unscrupulous individuals and organizations to prey on the most vulnerable members of our society.

Chapter 2: True Stories of Victims

Through powerful personal narratives, this chapter gives voice to victims of conservatorship abuse. From the elderly couple who lost their home and life savings to a corrupt conservator to the mentally ill woman who was forced into a nursing home against her will, these stories expose the grim reality of this hidden epidemic.

Chapter 3: The Corrupt System

This chapter investigates the systemic failures that allow conservatorship abuse to flourish. It exposes the conflicts of interest, lack of oversight, and judicial biases that have created a system where the rights of the accused are routinely violated.

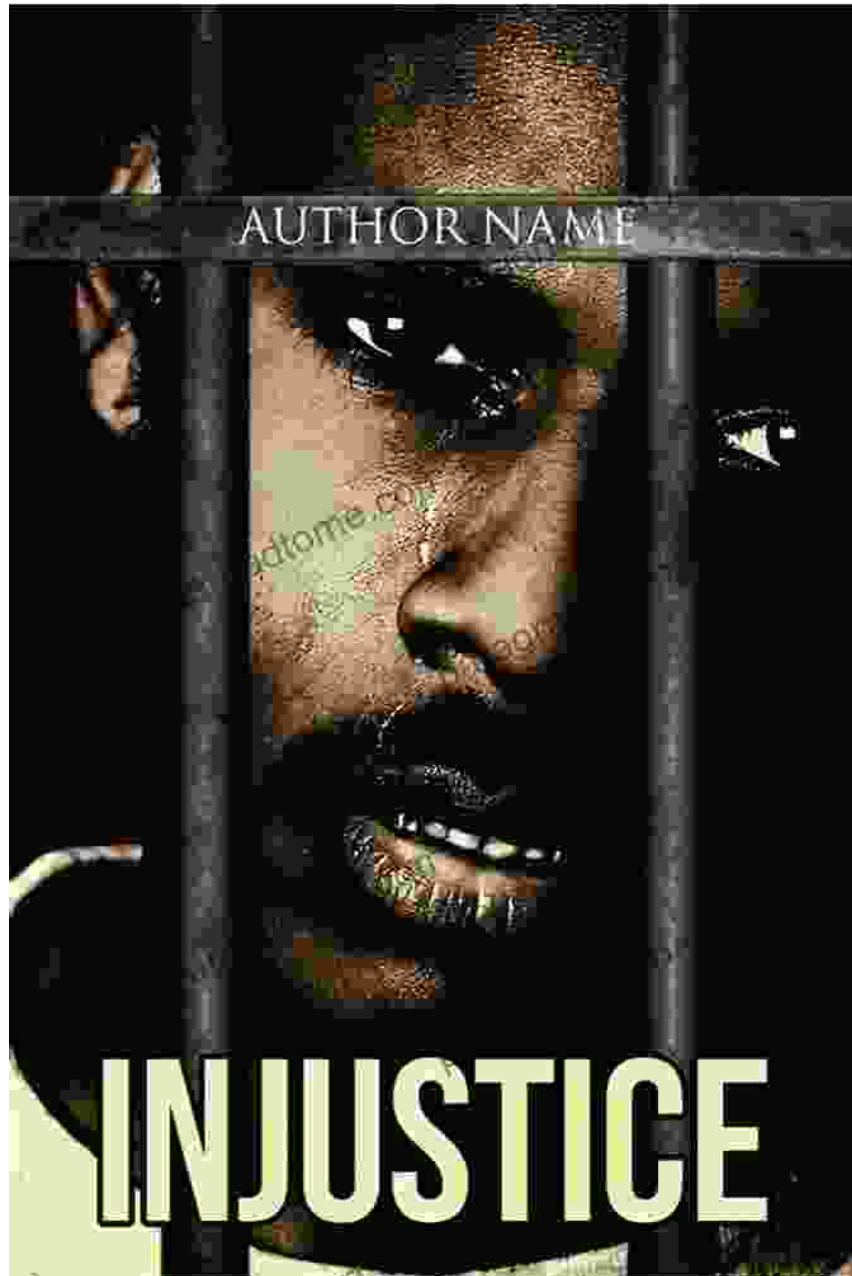

Chapter 4: The Fight for Justice

Despite the overwhelming challenges, there are individuals and organizations who are fighting to expose conservatorship abuse and seek justice for victims. This chapter profiles their courageous efforts and the legal and policy reforms that are needed to end this modern-day form of slavery.

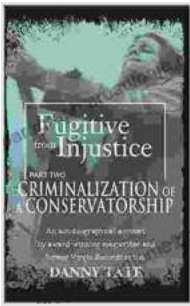

: A Call to Action

"Fugitive From Injustice" concludes with a powerful call to action. It urges readers to educate themselves about conservatorship abuse, to support victims and their advocates, and to demand systemic reforms to protect the most vulnerable members of our society.

This book is a must-read for anyone who cares about human rights, social justice, and the rule of law. It is a powerful indictment of the criminalization of conservatorship and a roadmap for creating a more just and equitable system for all.
