Garfield Minus Garfield is a webcomic created by Dan Walsh in 2008. The comic strip consists of the original Garfield comics by Jim Davis, with the character Garfield removed. This creates a strange and often humorous effect, as the other characters in the comic interact with an invisible Garfield.

Garfield Minus Garfield has become a popular internet phenomenon, with millions of fans around the world. The comic has been praised for its humor, cleverness, and originality. It has also been the subject of much academic study, with scholars exploring its themes of loneliness, isolation, and existentialism.

The Creator

Dan Walsh is a web developer and artist from Boston, Massachusetts. He created Garfield Minus Garfield as a personal project, and he has continued to update the comic strip regularly since 2008.

Walsh has said that he was inspired to create Garfield Minus Garfield after seeing a Garfield comic strip in which Garfield was not present. He thought that the comic was funnier without Garfield, and he decided to create his own version of the strip.

Walsh's work on Garfield Minus Garfield has been praised by critics and fans alike. He has been featured in numerous interviews and articles, and his comic strip has been translated into several languages.
