The World's Fastest Steam Locomotive

In 1938, the British locomotive Mallard set the world record for the fastest steam locomotive, reaching a speed of 126 mph. This record has never been broken by a steam locomotive.

The Smallest Working Steam Engine

The smallest working steam engine in the world is called the "Fairy". It was built in 1896 and is only 1.5 inches tall. The Fairy is still in operation today and can be seen at the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago.
